EPM Librarian - A documentation utility for Microsoft Office Project Server 2010

From one of the world's leading Microsoft Enterprise Project Premier Solution Providers.

A constant challenge for companies implementing the EPM solution is to ensure that up-to-date documentation is maintained constantly and accurately. Typically, this is a time-consuming process for administrators and, therefore, often gets forgotten or left to a more convenient time. Frequently, other priorities mean that the documentation is inaccurate or incorrect when it needs to be referred to for support or troubleshooting purposes.

This utility removes the burden of maintaining and documenting an EPM solution because it interrogates the current Project Server system and exports all relevant information to an Excel spreadsheet. The utility is quick to run and can be utilised whenever the documentation needs to be updated or reproduced. This is an immense time saving tool for Project Server administrators and allows them to focus on other activities. We estimate that in order to maintain EPM documentation accurately, at least 2 to 3 hours are required every week, and therefore, this utility pays for itself very quickly.

Benefits:

- Rapid production of documentation as and when required
- Releases Project Server administration for 2 to 3 hours a week (minimum)
- Ensures solution can be documented at any time
- Administrators are not reliant on paper-based documentation which can get lost or missed, especially in IT environments where resource turnover may be an issue.

Features:

- Documents all custom fields including enterprise level outline codes
- Documents all security settings including groups, categories and permissions
- Documents server configurations
- Output produced in Excel format
- Minimal configuration required
- Works with Project Server 210
- Quick and easy to install
- One copy required per Project Server install.
