Add Projects to Categories Utility for Microsoft Office Project Server 2010

From one of the world's leading Microsoft Enterprise Project Premier Solution Providers.

Maintenance of categories in the EPM solution can, for medium to large implementations, be a time-consuming process. The ability for users to view projects is controlled by the category permission in the EPM solution. Therefore, often projects need to be added to one or more categories to ensure users are able to see this project in the Project Center.

This utility uses a custom field that allows project managers to select a value appropriate to the categories of that project. For example, in a situation where an IT project should not be visible to sales and marketing, and vice versa. These projects would need to be allocated only to the category appropriate to that department.

This utility automates the process and, therefore, saves the administrator a great deal of time.

The utility is particularly appropriate where larger numbers of projects (100+) are held on the system and/or where there is a rapid turnover of projects.

Features:

- Automated allocation of projects to category
- Quick and easy mapping of projects to categories
- Saves administrator time
- Category assignment occurs in the background
- Effect is immediate (e.g. project is viewable by resource as soon as it has been saved)
- Multiple mappings are possible
- Only one copy required per Project Server instance
- Minimal configuration required
- Quick and easy to install
